| PROGRAM | Family Nurse Practitioner, Graduate Certificate |

The University of Central Florida is committed to providing clear and accurate information to current and prospective students to help inform career planning. The UCF program identified above prepares students for state-regulated professional licensure or certification. However, specific licensure and certification requirements may vary by state or territory. Requirements typically include earning a degree or other educational credential from an institution and program that meet certain requirements in that state (e.g., specific coursework, accredited status); passing a state or national exam; and/or working in the field for a period of time or completing a certain number of clinical hours. If your career plans include pursuing professional licensure or certification, it is important to become educated on the credentialing requirements of the state in which you intend to practice.

Effective July 1, 2024, federal regulation requires the university to meet all educational requirements for state-regulated licensure or certification in every US state and territory where its eligible programs are offered. This disclosure is intended to provide you with information regarding the educational preparation you will receive in your chosen program of studyⁱ.

UCF Program Preparation in the State of Florida

This program meets the educational requirements for criteria for national certification, which is a requirement for obtaining the license to practice in the State of Florida as a Family Nurse Practitioner. For information on all requirements for this credentialⁱⁱ, please review the Florida Board of Nursing requirements available here: <https://floridasnursing.gov/licensing/advanced-practice-registered-nurse/>.

Graduates of UCF's FNP Post-Bachelor's DNP or FNP Post-Master's Certificate program are eligible to sit for the Family Nurse Practitioner National Board Certification Examination offered by the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners Certification Board or the American Nurses Credentialing Center. Passing either of these certification exams meets the requirements for nurse practitioner board certification nationwide and the license requirements for the State of Florida.

The Family Nurse Practitioner (Graduate Certificate) program is designed for in-person course delivery. Although some limited online options may be available, students must take a preponderance of their coursework following admission to the program in-person within the State of Florida.

UCF Program Preparation in Other US States and Territoriesⁱⁱⁱ

We have not determined whether the Family Nurse Practitioner (Graduate Certificate) program meets the educational requirements for graduates to be eligible to apply for licensure or certification in any additional states. If you are interested in seeking licensure or certification outside of the State of Florida, we encourage you to review the appropriate state board of nursing information to determine all requirements needed to obtain your credential of interest. State board of nursing contact information for this field can be found here: <https://apq.ucf.edu/document/statelicensingboards-nursing>. You are also welcome to reach out to the UCF program contact identified below with questions in this regard, and we will do our best to assist you in your career planning.

Enrollment Eligibility Restrictions^{iv}

To comply with federal and state-level restrictions, this program may only enroll students who will be physically located within the State of Florida for the duration of their program of study, including both didactic and clinical experiences. Should you be physically located outside of Florida for more than a vacation or brief visit, regardless of your legal state of residence or the type of license you currently hold, you will be unable to apply or continue your enrollment in this program. These restrictions apply equally to students accepting traveling nurse positions.

Nurse Licensure Compact (NLC) Information

As Florida is part of the Nurse Licensure Compact (NLC), nurses with a RN license in the State of Florida may be eligible to apply for a compact license to practice in the other NLC states, districts and US territories. This list is continually updating pending legislative changes. The most up-to-date information on the NLC can be found on the National Council of State Boards of Nursing website at <https://www.ncsbn.org/nurse-licensure-compact.htm>.

Programmatic Accreditation^v

The Family Nurse Practitioner (FNP) programs are accredited nationally by the Commission of Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE). Programmatic accreditation is typically required for state-regulated licensure in this field. Recognition by CCNE is specific to the program and is distinct from UCF's institutional accreditation that is required for other purposes, including UCF's authorization to award federal financial aid to students.

UCF Program Preparation Outside the United States

This disclosure does not address program eligibility in countries outside the United States. We have not determined whether this program meets the educational requirements for graduates to be eligible to apply for licensure or certification outside the United States. Again, it is important to become educated on the credentialing requirements in the location in which you hope to practice.
