

DISCLOSURE REGARDING PROGRAM PREPARATION FOR PROFESSIONAL LICENSURE OR CERTIFICATION

COLLEGE	College of Community Innovation and Education
PROGRAM	School Psychology, EdS

The University of Central Florida is committed to providing clear and accurate information to current and prospective students to help inform career planning. The UCF program identified above is designed to prepare students for state-regulated professional licensure or certification. However, specific licensure and certification requirements may vary by state or territory. Requirements typically include earning a degree or other educational credential from an institution and program that meet certain requirements in that state (e.g., specific coursework, accredited status); passing a state or national exam; and/or working in the field for a period of time or completing a certain number of clinical hours. If your career plans include pursuing professional licensure or certification, it is important to become educated on the credentialing requirements of the state in which you intend to practice.

Effective July 1, 2024, federal regulation requires the university to meet all educational requirements for state-regulated licensure or certification in every US state and territory where its eligible programs are offered. This disclosure is intended to provide you with information regarding the educational preparation you will receive in your chosen program of studyⁱ.

UCF Program Preparation in the State of Florida

The School Psychology (EdS) is designed for in-person course delivery. Although some limited online options may be available, students must take a preponderance of their coursework in-person within the State of Florida.

This program meets the educational requirements for certification as a School Psychologist (PK-12) in the State of Florida. Graduates of this Florida state-approved educator preparation program will qualify for a Florida Professional Educator Certificate in School Psychology (PK-12). For information on all requirements for this credentialⁱⁱ, please review the Florida Department of Education's certification requirements, available here: <https://www.fldoe.org/teaching/certification/>.

UCF Program Preparation in Other US States and Territoriesⁱⁱⁱ

As a participant in the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (SARA), UCF is authorized to offer educational programs in all states (except California), the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the US Virgin Islands. The State of California is not currently a member of SARA, but UCF is separately authorized to offer educational programming there as well.

We are currently unable to determine whether or not the School Psychology (EdS) program meets the educational requirements for graduates to be eligible to apply for licensure or certification in any additional states.

If you are interested in seeking certification outside of the State of Florida, we encourage you to review the appropriate state board of education information to determine all requirements needed to obtain your credential of interest. State board of education contact information for this field can be found here: <https://apq.ucf.edu/document/statelicensingboards-teachered>. You are also welcome to reach out to the UCF program contact identified below with questions in this regard, and we will do our best to assist you in your career planning.

Enrollment Eligibility Restrictions^{iv}

To comply with federal enrollment restrictions, UCF may only enroll students physically located in the states and territories where it meets all educational requirements for the credential it prepares students to achieve. Accordingly, we are generally unable to enroll students physically located in other states and territories during their first term of enrollment in the program. However, students may be eligible to enroll upon submission of a signed attestation of their intention to pursue licensure in a state or territory where UCF does meet educational eligibility requirements. Please reach out to the program contact listed below for additional guidance in this regard.

Programmatic Accreditation^v

The School Psychology Ed.S. program previously maintained continuous approval by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) since 1989. In 2022, the program began a full accreditation review by NASP. Following NASP's review process, NASP chose not to accredit the program. Accordingly, the prior NASP recognition expired on August 1, 2025. Note that this change in status does not alter program graduates' eligibility for certification as a School Psychologist (PK-12) in the State of Florida but recognition may be required in other states. Recognition by NASP is specific to the program and is distinct from UCF's institutional accreditation that is required for other purposes, including UCF's authorization to award federal financial aid to students.

UCF Program Preparation Outside the United States

This disclosure does not address program eligibility in countries outside the United States. We are unable to determine whether or not the School Psychology (EdS) program meets the educational requirements for graduates to be eligible to apply for licensure or certification outside the United States. It is important to become educated on the credentialing requirements in the location in which you intend to practice.
